

HIGHWAYMEN NEAR TOWN.

A Gang Believed to be Near La Belle Park.—John Johnson Assaulted by Them.

Several Others Have in Different Times Been Attacked in Daytime and at Night.

The fact that John Johnson, colored, who is marketeer for Mr. Tom Boswell, of the county, had been badly injured near the intersection of the Broadway road and the La Belle park car line track, was published exclusively in yesterday's Sun.

Since yesterday sensational developments have been in the case, indicating that there is a regular band of highway robbers in the West End. Johnson was able to give full particulars this morning when Dr. J. G. Brooks went out to dress his injuries.

Day before yesterday while driving home from market, he deserted five men coming towards him from the direction of the new fair ground. He had just crossed the street car track, and it was midday. Three of the men turned and dispersed, while two came towards him. They were all five, he says, dressed in snuff-colored clothes, wore light bicycle caps and tan shoes. They were typical negro duels.

Two approached him and asked him if he had any apples. He replied that he did not, whereupon one seized him, while the other struck him a violent blow on the back of the head.

He remembers nothing more. Some time afterward his horse walked up to a little cabin, occupied by a colored man named Fletcher, and the latter at once divided that something was wrong. He made a detour of the locality, and found Johnson dragging a broken leg along the road, in a dazed and semi-conscious condition. He could give no account of how he was hurt, and it was supposed he had fallen under the wagon.

He was robbed of one dollar in money, but forty cents in another pocket was not found. He does not know whether they broke his leg in pulling him out of the wagon or whether the vehicle ran over him after he had fallen.

Since the bold assault made upon him, it had been learned that Chas. Thomas, another colored man living in the neighborhood, was held up only the day before, but contrived to bluff the highwaymen by defying them with a club.

Several nights ago Major Moss gave a possum supper at his home in Arcadia, and Circuit Clerk J. W. Fisher and Dr. P. H. Stewart were among the guests. As they were returning home something in the road near the old toll gate frightened the horse, causing it to shy and run so fast that whoever it was could not catch the buggy. Dr. Stewart is now satisfied that it was the same gang. Another incident tending towards the same conclusion is the assault made on Mr. Culver, the insurance agent, several nights ago while returning to the city from a spin out the Broadway road with a young lady. They had been on a visit to friends, and opposite the old La Belle park station Mr. Culver was struck and knocked off. The young lady rode on to the grocery a short distance below, gave the alarm and probably saved Mr. Culver from being robbed.

The people of the locality are confident there are highwaymen there, and are of the opinion that they make their headquarters about the new fair grounds and perhaps spend some of their time shooting craps.

THEY WILL GO FREE.

American Schooner Competitor's
Crew Will Be Pardoned.

Havana, Nov. 13.—Dispatches received from Madrid confirmed the previous reports to the effect that the prisoners captured on board the American schooner Competitor, in April 1896, will be included in the general amnesty decree soon to be issued.

The second trial by court martial of the Competitor's crew was to have begun on Monday last, but was postponed on account of the sickness of the President of the court.

TREATY WILL BE RATIFIED.

Hawaiian Annexation Is Now
Assured as Shown by Poll.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Ratification of the Hawaiian annexation treaty by the United States Senate is assured. The administration has made a poll of that body, and President McKinley is satisfied that more than two-thirds of the senators will vote for ratification.

When the treaty was submitted to the Senate on June 16, last, it was stated that fifty-seven senators could be depended upon to vote in favor of the instrument. Eleven senators were given as doubtful, and twenty-one as opposed to ratification. The administration has ascertained the views of the men who were then in doubt, and President McKinley is now depending on sixty senators for the treaty, with prospects of the addition of several votes to this number.

The most potent opposition will come from sugar interests. Pacific coast influence is divided, and while most of the senators from that section are in favor of the treaty, Senator White, of California, is expected to lead the opposition to it in the Senate.

RECIPROCITY TREATY

To be Arranged Between the United States and Canada.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Definite arrangements have been made for taking up the subject of a reciprocity treaty between the United States and Canada, and to this end meetings have been fixed between the Hon. John W. Kasson, who is specially delegated by President McKinley to conduct the reciprocity negotiations, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian Premier, and Sir Louis Davies, minister of marine. This is the result of the long and friendly conference held yesterday between Secretary Sherman and Sir Wilfrid. The meeting will be held during the present visit of the Canadian officials.

A POST-EPIDEMIC CRUSADE.

One Begun to Prevent Recurrence of Yellow Fever
Next Year.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Now that the yellow fever epidemic in this country has been brought practically to an end by the appearance of cold weather, the Marine Hospital Service is preparing to begin a post-epidemic crusade for the purpose of preventing a recurrence of the contagion next year. The officials of the bureau will co-operate with the health authorities of the various States affected in conducting a thorough disinfection of the districts in which the fever gained a foothold. The cleansing of all infected cities will be urged, and each house in which there was a case of fever will be thoroughly fumigated. It is believed that by pursuing this course the country can be protected against another yellow fever epidemic in 1898.

BOSTON'S GREAT PREACHER

The Rev. J. B. Brady, D. D., Advises His Many Parishioners To Take Paine's Celery Compound.

The Rev. James Boyd Brady, pastor of the People's Temple, in Boston, presides over the destinies of the largest Methodist church in the country.

Big, candid Scotch-Irishman that he is, Dr. Brady has built up the Temple financially and numerically, and today he is the pastor of a flock of 1700.

Dr. Brady devotes himself with untiring courage to anything he undertakes. The chief characteristics of his ministry have been progress, in number, financial condition and spiritual growth. He is a man of plain but vigorous words. So much has been said and written about Dr. Brady—his work, his progressive methods, his eloquence and his power as a minister, that the following letter from him will be convincing and helpful to many persons besides the large number who are every Sunday induced for good by his powerful preaching. He writes:

"Boston, Sept. 27, 1897.—Paine's celery compound, if widely and wisely used, would relieve nervousness, soothe restlessness, relieve sickness, strengthen the body, invigorate the mind and add years of happiness to life."

"Pastor People's Temple."

The man or woman who does not take time to get well will never be able to take time to do his duty.

Many live under the needless infliction of indigestion, nervousness, constipation and general weakness, and endure the consequent loss of health without considering how easily the cause of all this illness might be remedied.

Nervous nerve and tissue nourishment is at the bottom of all permanent building up of health.

Paine's celery compound looks out for the insidious weakening of the nervous system through malnutrition. It gives a healthy tone to the stomach, increases the blood supply, quiets and equalizes the irritated nerve action and promptly feeds the tissues when the body is at its lowest ebb and should not be further taxed.

The only cure, therefore, for rheumatism, neuralgia or general debility that is lasting in its good effects must rest on a radical cleansing of the blood and a building up of the nervous system. All this is best done by Paine's celery compound, because this remarkable remedy begins at the beginning wherever there is disease and establishes the healthy family and beyond any fear of falling back.

The worn-out person who cannot sleep should take Paine's celery compound. It is fully to imagine that every hour taken from sleep is an hour gained. Nothing undermines health and energy like loss of sleep. The nervous system suffers as much from lack of sleep as from lack of nourishment. Both may be supplied and a healthy condition insured by using Paine's celery compound.

The stay and staff of sound health is well nourished and well regulated nerves. Sufferers from sleeplessness, nervousness, dyspepsia or headache may be sure that every reservoir of nerve force has been tapped and exhausted by work, worry, too little sleep or faulty nourishment, because of poor digestion and assimilation. As soon as such signs of nervous exhaustion are noticed, shaky hands, broken sleep, poor appetite, wasting diseases, neuralgia or dyspepsia, take advantage of the remarkable restorative and regulating action of Paine's celery compound.

Nervous disorders increase in a sort of compound ratio. It is a thousand times easier to put a stop to nervous debility in its earlier stages than later on to correct nerve and brain exhaustion that may be complicated by heart, kidney or some other organic trouble.

Paine's celery compound must not be confounded with any of the plausible sounding, but really temporary makeshifts, whose cures are never permanent nor thoroughgoing, and only bring deferred troubles that make the heart sick. Paine's celery compound is the greatest nerve and brain invigorator and most reliable blood purifier the world has ever been blessed with.

his baggage. When I got to him he began to fumble in his pocket and then the other.

"When you come to a man who fumbles around for his ticket you ought to pass him, especially when the next station is only two or three miles away. So I went on and after going through the train went back to him. He was still fumbling.

"Where's your ticket?" I asked.

"I-I-I don't know, boss. I can't find it no where."

"Well, what did you do with it?"

"Now boss, if I even had my ticket, I suppose I've lost it," he replied.

"Yes, I don't guess you ever had any. Bill, take his umbrella," I said to the porter.

"The old darkey looked astonished at first, but soon a wide smile broadened his face, and he said:

"Ola, la, boss, dat'll be all rite. jes' keep de ombril, sah, an' I'll go to Dyahshu's toe muck it eben! I gueses I kin fin' another one some-where whin I gits it."

A year ago yesterday Dr. J. T. Redick started for Mexico to attend the Pan-American Medical Congress. The story he read in the Sun a few days ago about the woman aboard the train who took the conductor's watch reminded him of an incident of the trip.

A lady was aboard who had purchased a ticket at Louisville over the I. C. to San Francisco via New Orleans and the Sunset Limited. She was very anxious to go over the latter, and went by New Orleans for the sole purpose of the trip.

When she reached the Crescent City, however, she found that she was too late to catch the bi-weekly limited, on account of having been delayed by a freight wreck. She promptly went to the railroad agent and demanded either a first class berth on the regular train or the full expenses of her return to New Orleans until the next Sunset Limited. After considerable discussion her hotel bill was paid by the company.

HOLMES' EVIL EYE.

A Priest Who Prayed with Murderer Holmes is Dead.

Philadelphia, Nov. 12.—Another of the men who helped to send H. H. Holmes, the murderer of many women and children, to perdition, has fallen under what is termed here the Holmes evil eye. The dead during his incarceration here called down curses on all who would have anything to do with his death.

The Rev. Henry P. McPake, assistant priest of the Roman Catholic Church of the Annunciation at Tenth and Dickerson streets, near Moyamensing prison, where Holmes died, and who was one of the priests that attended the murderer during his confinement and stood with him on the scaffold, was found dead under peculiar circumstances. At 9 o'clock on Tuesday night Father McPake left the Church of the Annunciation to pay a sick call. Half an hour later he called on a brother priest at St. Paul's parish house on Christian street, near Ninth and Erie streets, a quarter from his own church. After a brief visit he left to go to his father's house. At daylight the dead body of the priest was found in the alleyway of St. Paul's parish school building. In the edifice reside eight Sisters of Charity. Surrounding the building is a board fence six feet high with protruding spikes.

No man resides in the building or is allowed there, a Mrs. Burns doing the heavy work. She discovered the priest's body when she went to the yard. The man's coat and vest were in one part of the yard and his body in another. The nose was broken and his skull slightly fractured.

There is no light on the mystery, and the sisters think that the man was killed, and the body thrown over the fence.

Ex-Conductor Pat Halloran tells the following stories of his own experience on the old C. O. & S. W. rail road a few years ago.

"One day an old darkey got aboard my train at Riletto, Tenn. It was evidently the first time he had ever been on a train, and he looked ill at ease and moved restlessly about on the seat. He wanted to go to Housling, a small station two miles below, and the fare was ten cents. He had for his time ready, and just as I stopped for it he whisked for the station. He looked doubtfully at me a moment and the asked, 'Is we dar?'"

"Yes, we are there," I returned.

"An' de dime am gone?"

"Yes, the dime is gone, I reckon."

"Good Lawd, mistab, an' I didn't eben git tuc rah' ba'k in dis deah sof' beuch?"

"I'm sorry," I rejoined, somewhat amused, as the train stopped.

"Gracious! Ef I'd a knowed we'd got beh dis quick I'd a walk-ed," he muttered to himself, as he supported himself on his cane and jumped off.

"Another old darkey got on at Gates," resumed Capt. Halloran.

"He had an umbrella. This was all

The following is a part of a speech delivered at the Atlanta Exposition, by Prof. Booker T. Washington, the greatest educator of his race: He said in part: A ship lost at sea for many days suddenly sighted a friendly vessel. From the mast of the unfortunate vessel, was seen the signal, "Water, water, we die of thirst!" The answer from the friendly vessel at once came back, "Water, water, we have water!" A second time the signal, "Water, water, we die of thirst," was sent, and a third and a fourth signal for water was answered, "Water, water, we have water!" The captain of the distressed vessel, at last heeding the injunction, cast down his board, and it came up brim full of fresh, sparkling water from the mouth of the Amazon river.

Pleasant Grove Settlement, Nov. 12.—There was a reception tendered Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sanders, of the Arcadia neighborhood, this county, by the good people of the Pleasant Grove Settlement. Mr. Sanders, and wife, who had recently removed into their newly built cottage on the Lovelaceville and Paducah, county road in Arcadia. The Pleasant Grove citizens gave them a house warming to let them know they were not forgotten in their new home. The following persons were in attendance, and presented them with slight tokens or souvenirs, viz: Miss Clara Logan, Fruit Stand; Mr. George Grace, cups and saucers; Mr. George Gilliam, toilet set; Mrs. Amy Fugua, set of glasses; Miss Ella D. Fugua, butter dish; Sallie Holland and daughters, lamp; Howard Brothers, two pitchers; Mrs. Lonnie Ealy, cake stand; Messrs. Henry and Robert Ealy, presents; Mr. Nelson Vaughn, shaving mug and brush; A. P. Smith, dish pan; Mr. Edward Fletcher and wife, napkins and towels. And many others to those of my race who depend upon bettering their conditions in a foreign land, or who underestimate the importance of cultivating friendly relations with the Southern white man, who is their next door neighbor, I would say, Cast down your bucket where you are; cast it down in making friends in every manly way of the people of all races by whom we are surrounded; cast it down in agriculture, in mechanics, in commerce, in domestic service and in the professions. And in this connection it is well to bear in mind that whatever other sins the South may be called upon to bear, when it comes to business pure and simple, it is in the South that the negro is given a man's chance in the commercial world, and in nothing is this exposition more eloquent than in emphasizing this chance. Our greatest danger is that in the leap from slavery to freedom we may overlook the fact that the masses of us are to live by the production of our hands, and fail to keep in mind that we shall prosper in proportion as we learn to put brains and skill into the common occupations of life; shall prosper in proportion as we learn to draw the line between the superficial and the substantial, the ornamental gewgaws of life and the useful. No race can prosper until it learns that there is as much dignity in tilling a field as in writing a poem. It is at the bottom of life we must begin, and not at the top. Nor should we permit our grievances to overshadow our opportunities.

Mayfield Alleged Murderer Goes Free.

Killed the Abductor of His Young Daughter.

Jessie Kirkland, the white man, who shot and killed Jack Johnson in Mayfield several months ago, was acquitted yesterday in the Circuit court. Johnson, who was a married man with a family, abducted Kirkland's thirteen-year-old daughter, and after keeping her a week, deserted her and attempted to rejoin his family, when he was waylaid and shot by Kirkland.

The tragedy created great excitement at the time. The girl was not brought back until sometime after her abduction was killed. He was shot and instantly killed.

Public sentiment had always been with Kirkland who stood better in the community than his victim.

The cool evenings are making the rooms quite popular, and every day brings an increased attendance. The statistical report for October shows that sixteen hundred and fifty visits were made to the building during the month, thus proving the attractive power of the splendid selection of reading matter, the gymnasium classes and the other departments of work.

Mr. Jeff Herndon, who became so popular as an instructor last season, has taken charge of the classes in the gymnasium, and there is a marked increase in attendance already.
